HARMON UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF DEMOCRATS

Easily Sways Ohio State Convention at Dayton --Heard in Brief Acceptance Address Following Nomination Wednesday

Dayton, O., June 22.—The Democratic state convention got down to business at 9:30 this morning by making the temporary organization permanent and renominating Governor Judson Harmon by acclamation.

In accepting the nomination Governor Harmon cut his remarks to the quick, making brief allusions to the alleged national extravagance on the part of the Republicans. He also paid his respects to the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The most of his talk was on state issues, enumerating the reforms which he said the party has accepted in Ohio, and which they would put into effect if given further opportunity.

The new state committee elected is a Harmon organization. Edward W. Hanley was re-elected chairman and Hugh S. Nichols is to be chairman

CAUCUS NAMES AL AS BELL WEATHER

Dayton, O., June 22.—(Special.)—At a caucus of the Columbiana county delegation held Tuesday at the Phillips house, Mayor Al Carlile, of Salem, was selected to act as chairman of the county delegation in the convention.

With the exception of Editor Cutshall, of New Waterford, all the regularly elected delegates from Columbiana county were on hand at the convention, and he was represented by an alternate. No contests developed at the caucus.

On the question of a senatorial endorsement, the Columbiana county delegation, with one exception, stood opposed to an endorsement, and declared it would vote against the proposition if it developed on the floor of the convention. The exception noted was Delegate O. C. Juergens, of Salem, who announced that he stood for an endorsement first, last and all the time, and would so vote in the convention.

As no effort has or will be made to vote the delegation under the unit rule, Mr. Juergens will be free to vote for the proposition, though it is certain that his colleagues will not vote with him.

The Salem members are all standing the strain of the pre-convention excitement well, and seem to be having a good time.

EIGHTEENTH DISTRICT DELEGATION ORGANIZED

Dayton, O., June 22.—(Special.)—The Eighteenth congressional district delegation caucused at 3 p. m. Tuesday, in room 4, Steele high school building, with Bernard Bell, ot Massillon, acting as chairman and H. L. Murphy, of Youngstown, as secretary. No contests developed, the caucus proving harmonious and free from contention. The following selections for district offices were made:

Vice president of convention—J. J. Weisand, of East Liverpool.

Committee on credentials—C. F. F. Brenner, of Youngstown.

Committee on resolutions—J. P. Wilson, of Youngstown.

Committee on permanent organization—Dr. A. W. Schiller, of Salem.

Committee on rules and order of business—T. S. Arnold, of Leetonia.

Member of state central committee—J. J. Whitacre, of Canton.

Although, by rotation, it was the turn of Mahoning county to name the member of the state central committee, the delegation from that county yielded this privilege and seconded the nomination of Mr. Whitacre, which was made by Mayor Carlile, of Salem.

Aurora Club Entertained.

Mrs. William Scullion entertained the Aurora Fancywork club at her home on Perry street, Wednesday afternoon. Refreshments were served and a pleasant afternoon spent with fancywork.

PROHI'S HONOR A SALEM MAN

Zanesville, June 22.—(Special.)—At the Prohibition state convention here today, Alfred H. Stratton, of Salem, was nominated for secretary of state and O. T. Richards, of Alliance, for state school commissioner. H. J. MacLane, of Cleveland, is the unanimous choice for governor.

ARRANGING FOR K. OF P. MEMORIAL SERVICE

Salem lodge No. 142, Knights of Pythias, is completing arrangements for its annual memorial services, which will be held next Sunday. The knights and Pythian Sisters will attend church service at the Christian church in the morning, when Rev. M. J. Grable will deliver a memorial address.

At 2:30 p. m. the members will meet in K. of P. hall and members of Salem lodge No. 142, Carnation temple No. 100, Pythian Sisters, and Uniform Rank, Quaker City company No. 83, will march to Hope cemetery. There the memorial exercises will be held, the annual address to be delivered by the Rev. Traverce Harrison, of Lisbon. The lodges of all the towns surrounding Salem have been invited to participate in these exercises.

On this occasion Salem lodge will honor the memory of 52 departed members, 50 of whom are buried in Hope cemetery and two in Grandview cemetery. A committee will decorate the graves of the two members in Grandview Sunday morning.

LISBON GLAD TO BID HUDDLESON ADIEU

Lisbon, June 22.—Ross Huddleson, of Danville, who was arrested on a charge of petit larceny and plead not guilty when arraigned before Mayor Hinchliffe, had another charge preferred against him Tuesday and stood trial on the same, Tuesday evening. He was charged with living in a state of cohabitation with Mrs. Alice Flickinger, of Danville, and before the trial had proceeded very far acknowledged his guilt to the court. Mayor Hinchliffe immediately sentenced him to three months in the Canton workhouse and to pay a fine of $200 and costs, to stand committed until the fine and costs were paid. This sentence was later suspended on Huddleson's promise to leave the county and not return.

Huddleson has been a resident of Lisbon for several years and has always been under suspicion by the police. Small thefts have taken place and since his arrest Monday he has been found to have been connected with several of them. He was suspected of burglarizing the Armstorng residence here last winter, which resulted in Hammond Armstrong receiving a bullet in his hip. Huddleson was sweated by the police in regard to his movements on that night but was able to account for all but one-half hour of his time. Sufficient evidence to hold him on this charge was not obtainable, however, and the proceedings were stopped in this regard.

Massillon Also Wants Fight

The Massillon Athletic club has sent a telegram to Tex Richard, the promoter of the Johnson-Jeffries fight at San Francisco on July 4, offering of purse of $150,000 for the fight to take place at Massillon on July 4.

HONOR IS FORCED ON POMERENE

Dayton, O., June 22.—(Special.)—Not unlike the day when the vice presidency nomination was forced uppon Theodore Roosevelt in the memorable 1896 campaign, the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor was literally jammed down the throat of Atlee Pomerene, the brilliant son of Canton, this afternoon at second ballot, although protesting second ballot although protesting vigorously, when it was found that there was little strength to the other three candidates—Beis, Mooney and Kempel. He will probably accept.

The other nominations for state candidates will be made late this afternoon. The platform will, among other things, declare for the election of United States senators by direct vote and for the Oregon initiative and referendum system of government.

SPENCE AND FILLIUS JUDICIAL CANDIDATES

Dayton, O., June 22.—(Special.)—At a convention of delegates representing the Seventh Ohio judicial district, held immediately following the congressional district meeting here Tuesday afternoon, two candidates were nominated for circuit judgeship of the district, which includes Columbiana county. Mayor Carlile, of Salem, presided as chairman.

W. H. Spence, of Lisbon, and Charles Fillius, of Warren, were nominated as the party candidates for circuit judge in this district without opposition. Judge Hoyt, who was a candidate in 1908, declined to accept a nomination this time.

PONEY AND MULE RACES TO BE ATTRACTIONS

The Salem Matinee club is making preparations for a big day at the Salem Driving park on the afternoon of July 4, when the matinee races will be held. Pony and mule races have been arranged as special features of the afternoon's program. Prizes for these events will be given for every entry and better prizes for the winners. The entries have not been opened but will be within a short time and it is hoped that a large entry list will be received. The merchants of the city will be solicited to donate prizes for the pony and mule races.

11TH CONFERENCE OF BOARDS OF HEALTH

The eleventh conference of the Ohio state board of health with representatives of local boards of health of villages of less than 3,000 population and the twenty-seventh conference of the Ohio boards of health will be held in Cleveland Thursday and Friday, June 30 and July 1, in the Chamber of Commerce building. The program will include talks by men from all parts of the state. On Thursday evening Dr. A. L. Wagner, of Ellsworth, will speak on "The Semi-annual Inspection as Required by Law," as a sub-topic under the general topic, "Country School Houses."

WANT THE SPEED OF AUTOS REGULATED

The Business association Tuesday evening took action to have the state automobile speed ordinance enforced in this city, and will request the police officers to keep a strict watch for auto speeders. There is an auto ordinance now in the hands of the ordinance committee of city council which contains no "speed" clause, and as there is no city ordinance regulating the speed of these machines, the business men want the state ordinance enforced.

OHIO LAND BEST INVESTMENT IN WORLD FARMERS ARE TOLD

"I say to you gentlemen of Columbiana county that there is no better investment in the world than the thousands of farms in Eastern Ohio at the present price at which they may be bought. If the proper system of cultivation and fertilization which we have established here is followed they will double and in many instances treble in productivity, but they will pay for all this upbuilding and give you good interest on your investment in net earnings as well."

Thus spoke Director Charles E. Thorne, of the Ohio agricultural experiment station to the party of Columbiana county farmers who visited the big state farm Tuesday, while they were being shown about over the extensive fields where all sorts of variety, fertilizer and rotation tests of the standard Ohio crops are being made from year to year.

To those who had never been there before, the trip was a revelation, for a visit to that beautiful tract of 400 acres where farming has been reduced to an exact science adds a new attractiveness to agriculture. Those who had visited the station on previous occasions found many new things to interest them. Indeed, it is quite impossible to see and examine all the various experiments thoroughly in one or even two days and a week could be spent there very profitably by one interested in agriculture in its various phases.

The Columbiana county delegation this year was not as large as on two previous occasions, owing to the press of farm work occasioned by the backward spring. Those who took the time to go, however, do not regret the day spent in that manner. The party left Salem at 8:13 a. m., over the Ft. Wayne, and arrived in Wooster about 10:30, being conveyed at once from the depot to the farm, which is a mile and a half distant from the city. All members of the party had provided themselves with lunch and this was spread on the picnic tables in the

BIG BATCH OF BUSINESS BEFORE COUNCIL

Salem's city dads discussed and disposed of a big batch of business at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, accomplishing the following things: Passing the tax levy ordinance calling for a total levy of 18 mills; passed the ordinance authorizing Service Director McNeelan to proceed with the work of building an additional water basin; authorizing the siking fund trustees to issue $14,000 worth of refunding bonds at 4½ per cent interest; authorized Solicitor Scott to settle the damage claims of Mrs. Theda Allen and Samuel Patterson; granting the judiciary committee a continuance in looking up the matter of a sewage disposal plant; placed in the hands of the rules committee a request for a sealer of weights and measures; demanding that trees standing along sidewalks be trimmed; and discussed street, sidewalk and sewer improvements.

The board of sinking fund trustees approved the tax levy of 13 mills provided by the council and added 5 mills for the sinking fund and interest, making a total levy of 18 mills. Council thereupon passed the ordinance preparing for the levy.

Upon the request of the sinking fund trustees, the issuance of $14,000 worth of refunding bonds was

I.C. and Pennsy Indicted

Chicago, Ill., June 22.—(Special.)—The Illinois Central railroad has been indicted here charged with violating the Elkins anti-trust act and the Pennsylvania road has been indicted for violations of the interstate commerce law.

FUNDS RUNNING LOW IN SERVICE DEPARTMENT

City Auditor George Holmes informed city council Tuesday evening that there is a balance of $435.74 in the safety fund and $262.89 in the service fund, which amounts are not sufficient to meet all obligations and demands on the funds to June 30. He stated that there will be an advance on the fall installment about July 1, but as the city will need about $1,500 more than is on hand in these funds, he will pay out as long as the money lasts and meet the remainder after the advance on the levy is available.

The balances in the other funds are: General fund, $1,139.76; health fund, $440.42. The following are estimated amounts that will be received on or about August 22: General, $3,090; health, $515; safety, $3,865; service, $7,987.

BAKER GIVEN $3000 BY JURY

Lisbon, June 22.—The jury in the case of John Baker, as administrator, vs. the Ohio & Pennsylvania Coal Co., after deliberating for two hours yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff to the action for $3,000. The original amount prayed for was $10,000 and these damages were claimed to be due for the wrongful death of Charles Baker while employed by the defendant company as a mule driver in their mine at Salineville. In a former trial of the case, the jury disagreed.

MT. UNION COLLEGE WILL GET $50,000

Alliance, Ohio, June 22.—Special—The board of trustees of Mount Union college met Tuesday. Dr. W. H. McMasters, president of the college, announced that the college had raised the $150,000 necessary to secure an endowment of $50,000 from Andrew Carnegie, and the donor had been notified.

Herbert S. Johns, of Cleveland and John W. Moore, of Columbia were elected members of the board of trustees to replace Henry C. Bernard, of Cleveland, and E. W. Lane, formerly of Wheeling, W. Va., resigned. Rev. Thomas N. Boyle, Crafton, Pa.; Rev. Thomas R. Thoburn, Erie, Pa.; Dr. Edwin H. Parkin, Pittsburg, Pa.; Walter M. Mellett and Dr. C. S. Hoover, both of Alliance, were re-elected trustees.

DEFECTIVE SIDEWALKS TO RECIEVE ATTENTION

The streets, alleys and sidewalks committee of city council, composed of Chairman J. H. Dougher, David Groner and D. L. Augustine, has been busy in the last few weeks looking up defective sidewalks in all parts of the city, and as a result several new stone sidewalks will be ordered laid as soon as the necessary steps can be taken. Resolutions will be prepared and presented to council at its next meeting providing that the following sidewalk improvements be made, which were reported by this committee Tuesday evening:

New stone walk in front of house No. 88, south side of East Fourth street; new stone walk at No. 81, west side of Ellsworth avenue; new stone walk on north side of Green street, between Howard and Ellsworth, omitting house No. 20; new stone walk on east side of North Lundy street, on property of Aaron Wilson; cinder walks on both sides of Vine street between High and Fifth streets; cinder walk on west side of Hawley avenue, between High and Fifth streets; repair walk at first lot east of house No. 213, north side of Fourth street, between Vine and Rose streets.

Aside from these improvements, Councilman Cavanaugh reported that the sidewalks on East Dry street, along the Shriver property at the corner of Broadway and Dry street, should be repaired. He reported also a ditch dug across the sidewalk on Euclid street, just south of Lincoln avenue, that has been left in a bad condition. The solicitor informed the councilmen that the ditch should be filled in. Councilman Snyder reported the bad condition of the sidewalk in front of the blacksmith shop on the east side of South Lundy street, between Main and Dry streets.

NEW BASIN IS AUTHORIZED

COUNCIL VOTES FOR IT UNANIMOUSLY.

A CONCRETE BOTTOM

Server McNeelan Explained That the New Water Storage Basin Would Not be as Deep as the Old One—Mains Next.

Following a lively discussion on the necessity of having the bottom of the proposed new water basin constructed of re-inforced concrete, the members of the city council on Tuesday evening by a unanimous vote adopted the ordinance authorizing Service Director J. E. McNeelan to make the necessary expenditures in the erection of the basin and to let the contract for doing the work to the lowest bidder. City Auditor Geo Holmes informed council that there is $4,985.50 in the city treasury credited to the water basin fund, Engineer French's estimate of the cost, and which is to be used for no other purpose than that of paying for a new water basin.

The ordinance was given its third reading Thursday evening, after which Councilman Dougher stated that, before he voted on placing the measure on its final passage, he would like to know whether Service Director McNeelan intended to begin the work of laying the water mains at any near date in the future. Mr. McNeelan replied that he plans to start this work in the fall, on Cleveland avenue especially, but that he cannot say just when he can do this, as it is up to council to authorize him to proceed with the work.

Member Groner declared that he could not freely vote for the new basin unless the bottom be built of re-inforced concrete, the plans and specifications calling for a concrete bottom only. Other members seemed to favor Mr. Groner's plan, as the land at the pumping station where the reservoir will be built is swampy and so close to the railroad that it is shaken by the vibrations from passing trains. Mr. Augustine stated that local concrete men had told him that the bottom would not hold without re-inforced concrete.

Director McNeelan explained that the large cracks in the bottom of the large basin resulted from so thin a layer of concrete having been laid when the basin was built some 21 years ago. He said the plans were not to build the new reservoir so deep, so as to avoid getting into the muck, but also to lay a concrete bottom 12 inches in thickness, which should hold, without cracking, for many years.

ALLIANCE MECCA OF MANY ODD FELLOWS

Alliance is the mecca of Odd Fellows from all parts of Ohio this week who have gathered in the city to attend the seventy-eighth session of the grand lodge of Ohio, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. All but two of the 70 district delegates of the state were present at the opening session Tuesday morning and large delegations from neighboring lodges were in attendance.

Many Salem Odd Fellows spent the day in Alliance, attending the various meetings arranged on the program. On Tuesday morning a class of 46, including many from Salem, took the past grand and grand lodge degrees. In the evening first degree work was exemplified by the Alliance lodge and was witnessed by the Salem members, the hall being crowded with members.

Two business sessions were held Wednesday by the grand lodge and in the evening Rev. George Blodgett, of Cincinnati, will deliver an address in the Christian church. Rev. Mr. Blodgett is remembered in Salem as having delivered the memorial address for the G. A. R. a few years ago.

Another business session of the grand lodge will be held Thursday morning, at which the business of the meeting will probably close. In the evening second degree work will be put on by Iris lodge, of Wellsville.

John McGilvary and daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Black, of Salineville, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Montgomery, of Lincoln avenue. They will visit there enroute to Ithica, N. Y., where Mr. McGilvary's son is a professor in Cornell university.

"Old Cy" Young—for he really isn't young any more—pitched 12 innings of winning ball yesterday and when he had finished was in condition to pitch several more innings quite as effectively. This would be a great accomplishment for a young man, but for one several years past the age when most ball players "go stale" it is an eloquent testimonial of the value of sane, temperate living. "Cy" Young has always taken care of himself. He has realized from the first that to be a great ball player he must keep sound and he has done so, while others have risen to brilliance for a time, only to pass away into the ranks of the has beens. And, wholly aside from his wonderful skill as a player, that one characteristic makes "Cy" Young one of the greatest players the national game has ever produced.

The back-to-the-land movement, which has been interesting so many city people recently, would gain a decided impetus if they could pay a visit to Ohio's splendid agricultural experiment farm, as the delegation of Columbiana county farmers did Tuesday. There they would see what real, high class farming means in its truest sense. But more important than all they would come to a very necessary realization that agriculture in this age is coming to be a science and that success is no longer the lot of the man who does not know. They would see that there is something more than merely moving onto a farm if one would enjoy the profits as well as the pleasures of rural life.

Governor Harmon must go to the White House, according to Atlee Pomerene in his Democratic keynote speech. But of vastly more importance just now to Uncle Jud is the problem of how to get back to Columbus for another two years.

The Democratic leaders, including Governor Harmon, have decided that the passage of the township, district, city and county local option laws and the Aikin tax law have "taken the saloon and the liquor question out of politics." Imagine how satisfying that will be to the gentlemen of the Anti-Saloon league!

Tuesday was the longest day in the year and also the hottest, according to the weather observer. We are not going to dispute it. Neither are those Democratic convention delegates down at Dayton.

Our neighbor, Sebring, is undergoing a real boom just now. Salem has no protest to register or complaint to make. It is always more pleasant to number live towns among one's neighbors.

MAN IS MURDERED AND PUT IN TRUNK

Mysterious Tragedy Uncovered by Portland, Ore., Police

Portland, Ore., June 22.—The blunder of the murderers in wrongly routing a trunk sent to the Union depot in this city was the means of disclosing a ghastly murder.

The victim was William A. Johnson, who, with his wife and seven-year-old son, arrived here Monday morning in company with a man who went by the name of A. C. Powers. The party registered at a cheap hotel, "Powers" as coming from Nome, Alaska.

Powers, whose real name is J. F. Webb, and Mrs. Johnson were arrested at an uptown lodging house. Both the man and woman, though intoxicated, denied all knowledge of the crime.

Webb declared he saw Johnson last at the Union depot waiting for a train to go to Seattle. He asserted Johnson was intoxicated at the time. Nothing important was elicited from either.

On Webb's person were found two watches, one of which Mrs. Johnson identified as her husband's, and two ladies' handkerchiefs, both bloodstained.

$1,000,000 FIRE IN NEW YORK

Plants Along Brooklyn Water Front and Vessels Destroyed.

New York, June 22.—A fire that called out most of the land apparatus in Brooklyn and three fireboats swept through the plant of the Cross, Austin & Ireland Lumber company in Williamsburg and along Newton creek so quickly last night that the entire plant, one of the largest in Greater New York, was almost completely destroyed.

The flames jumped across to the creek and then communicated to a number of vessels tied up in the vicinity before the fireboats got to work. The barkentine Stanley F. Minor, hailing from Athens, N. Y., and loaded with yellow pine, was destroyed. The fire also reached the Berlin Brick company's plant, across the creek, and two brick barges moored there were burned.

The fire loss, including the Gross, Austin & Ireland plant and the vessels and their cargoes destroyed was estimated at upward of $1,000,000.

EMPLOYE RICHLY REWARDED

Pittsburg Confectioner Leaves $50,000 to Faithful Woman Manager.

Pittsburg, June 22.—Faithful performance of her duties as an employe in a candy store when a child, and later when she was promoted to manager of several candy stores, has won for Miss Minnie M. Eicher a bequest of nearly $50,000 in the will of Charles Eissner, deceased, of the East End.

Miss Eicher entered the employe of Eissner, who was engaged in the candy business in the East End, when she was very young. Recently she has been manager of the business, which consists of several stores. Eissner never married.

DEMOCRATS GET DOWN TO WORK

of the executive committee in place of William L. Finley, an old crony of Harvey C. Garber, Bryan's national committeeman for the state.

Governor Harmon appointed Finley state oil inspector and Finley is to be actual manager of the campaign. Garber isn't here and sent word that he would not be here. Governor Harmon wouldn't permit Garber to steer in the matter of state appointments and Garber thereupon insisted that Harmon was wrecking the Democratic organization of the state.

New State Central Committee.

Following are members of the state central committee:

First district, D. D. J. W. O'Hara, Hamilton county; Second, William Marsheuser, Hamilton; Third, Edward W. Hanley, Montgomery; Fourth, J. S. Crist, Allen; Fifth, J. W. Smith, Putman; Sixth, J. P. Elton, Highland; Seventh, J. H. Harper, Fayette; Eighth, W. R. Given; Ninth, John A. O'Dwyer, Lucas; Tenth, Valle Harold, Scioto; Eleventh, Edward Wetzler, Fairfield; Twelfth, James Ross, Franklin; Thirteenth, W. H. Snyder, Wyandotte; Fourteenth, S. M. Douglas, Richland; Fifteenth, A. R. McCullough, Guernsey; Sixteenth, Herbert Mitcher, Belmont; Seventeenth, J. P. Gallahan, Coshocton; Eighteenth, J. J. Whitacre, Stark; Nineteenth, Joe Thomas, Summit; Twentieth, Charles W. Lapp, Cuyahoga; Twenty-first, Tom L. Johnson, Cuyahoga.

The Democratic state committee is made up of twenty-one members, one from each congressional district in the state. The Bryan-Tom Johnson contingent on the committee determined to force the fight to compel the convention to name a candidate for United States senator. This was in line with William J. Bryan's open letter of May 26 to Governor Harmon after the Nebraskan had rehitched up with former Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland. Johnson was not well enough to come here. He sent word that he was busy attending to his liver.

Is Johnson All In?

A number of Johnson's friends believe that he has fought his last political fight. He was represented by Newton D. Baker, city solicitor of Cleveland, probably the ablest of Johnson's lieutenants and the possible successor of Johnson as Democratic leader of Cuyahoga county.

The committee met at the Phillips House and Baker, as Johnson's proxy, introduced a resolution amending the call of the convention, incorporating the provision that the convention indorse a candidate for United States senator. William Gordon, proxy for C. W. Lapp, the other committeeman from Cleveland, Cuyahoga county, having two congress districts, seconded the resolution.

The friends of Governor Harmon made no speeches in reply and Chairman Edward W. Hanley put the Baker resolution to a vote.

The Bryan-Johnson plan for senatorial indorsement was defeated by a vote of 14 to 6 with one member absent. James Ross of Columbus, the absent member, has expressed himself favorably to the Harmon attitude and hence the absent member's vote can be counted among the "nays," making the vote 15 to 6. The vote was as follows:

Vote on Senatorial Proposition.

Against — Bernard, Dannenhower, Hanley, Secrest, Rings, Elton, Kampf, Nivin, Reilly, Harwold, Wolf, Hartman, Van Arman and McCullough.

For—Lawler, Shuter, Bell, Millikin, Lapp and Baker.

Baker said later that he would take the fight to the floor of the convention and insist upon a minority report.

Governor Harmon, after conferences all day with delegates from nearly all the counties, believes firmly that the liquor question, which has vexed Ohio statesmen, Republicans and Democrats, for more than a lifetime should have no place in the platform to be adopted by the convention.

Atlee Pomerene, temporary chairman of the convention, who may be the candidate for lieutenant governor and if not the candidate for United States senator at Columbus next winter, did not in his speech to the convention last night mention the liquor question. Governor Harmon's friends insist that the township law, the neighborhood law and finally the Rose county local option law passed during his administration have effectually taken the liquor question out of Ohio state politics and in his opinion most of the leading Republicans coincide.

There has been a great pulling and hauling all day for places on the state ticket. It is apparently a free for all scramble.

The first session was given over to the speech of Atlee Pomerene of Canton, temporary chairman, and to the appointment of committees of the convention. Pomerene's speech was intended to be the keynote for the approaching campaign in the state.

Chairman Pomerene's speech, although it was hotter than tophet, was vigorously applauded by the 3,132 delegates and alternates and the vast audience. Its exceeding length was due, it was stated by Governor Harmon's friends, to the countrywide interest in the campaign in the president's own state. Furthermore it was a speech calculated in some features to dragnet the Bryanites, the Tom Johnsonites and the anti-tariff Republicans of the state.

OUTLINES STAND OF HIS PARTY

Chairman Pomerene to Ohio Democratic Convention.

THOUSANDS OF AUDITORS

Issues State and National Discussed by the Temporary Chairman at the Opening of the Convention at Dayton—Declares Democratic Success the Only Hope of the People—Essence of the Address.

Dayton, O., June 22.—Facing a multitude of people in Dayton's spacious Memorial hall, on the occasion of the opening of the Ohio Democratic convention, Atlee Pomerene outlined Democracy's attitude toward the political issues of the day. His address, which was of some length, was well received by his auditors, who accorded the speaker rapt attention during the deliverance of the keynote. Mr. Pomerene discussed at length the alleged delinquencies of the recent state Republican administrations and referred with pride to the record made by Governor Harmon. He also lambasted the Payne-Aldrich tariff act and other doings of the national administration.

A capacity crowd was in attendance when E. W. Hanley, chairman of the state central committee, rapped the convention to order. Rev. John A. Winkler invoked the divine blessing. Chairman Hanley then introduced Atlee Pomerene, the Canton statesman, as temporary chairman of the convention, who at once proceeded to deliver the keynote. Mr. Pomerene said:

Democracy under a Democratic governor and a Democratic treasurer has been faithful over a few things, the people will make it ruler over many.

If they have been able to give efficient service in two offices, handicaped as they have been by not receiving the proper support from the other departments, they can produce better results if all are in political accord. For years prior to the election of the lamented Pattison as governor, the Republicans had been in complete control of all the state institutions. Death robbed Democracy of its victory when he was taken away. The machine the Republicans had builded continued to control. The main purpose was official spoils for personal favorites. Democracy, though not in power, continued its fight against the Republican machine for better government. Official abuses sprang up and thrived. Investigations were obstructed and finally prevented by injunction. Honest administration never fears the search light; it courts inspection.

The partial investigation then made was sufficient to show the people that the public funds of the treasury were kept without proper accounts; that they were deposited by state officials in favored banks, in part of which the officials themselves were interested or in control, and that they paid less interest for state deposits than they did for private deposits. The machine was more generous to its component parts than it was to the public. We do not charge that all of the Republican members of this machine were guilty of active malfeasance, but we do say that those officials who were in power and did not prevent this active malfeasance were culpable in not preventing it if they knew it, and in not knowing it if they did not know it. A distinguished governor has said that graft is non-partisan. That is true, but it does not absolve from responsibility the party whose officials are guilty of graft, or which permits it to continue or does not prevent it.

During the campaign of 1908, the Democratic standard bearer called the people's attention to the lax business methods which were prevalent in the state house; to the graft that was there entrenched; to the machine that was in control and was fostering it and benefiting by it; and to the necessity for cleaner and better politics. The Republicans denied these charges. Governor Harris gave each of the departments a clean bill of health. The issue was joined. Judson Harmon was elected governor and D. S. Creamer state treasurer. Before the people's choice could be inaugurated Governor Harris called the general assembly together, and in violation of every official propriety named appointees for every vacancy and a Republican senate confirmed them, in order to defeat the will of the people, provide for his political supporters, and embarrass the new governor.

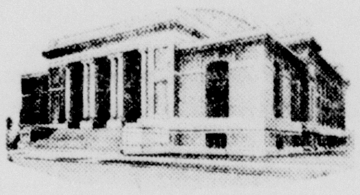
A new investigation of official mismanagement was begun by the general assembly. This time the force of public opinion became so strong that the Republicans did not dare to resist it, and that which before was to some extent a matter of faith under the Beatty committee became a demonstrated fact. Graft did exist. The good work of Democracy has just begun. The Republican majority which was responsible for the wrongdoings still continues in control in many of the departments. The Democrats who have been in office during Governor Harmon's administration have kept the faith. The Republicans have not heeded the warnings that were given by the election of a Democratic governor in 1905 and in 1908, and the people under the leadership of our present governor, Judson Harmon, this fall say to them in clarion tones which can not be misunderstood, "Depart."

Ohio Democracy under the leadership of Governor Harmon has been fighting especially for three supremely important principles:

1. The elimination of graft.
2. Business methods and economy in public expenditures.
3. Reduction and reform in our tax system.

1. GRAFT.

That the statehouse under the dominance of a Republican machine has been honeycombed by graft is clearly proven by the committee headed by Senator Beatty; that a portion of it was the result of ignorance due to precedent and ill-considered legal advice, I do not doubt; that some of it was due to a selfish desire to profit at the expense of the state is evident from the manner in which the public funds have been used by public officials and placed in favored banks; that much of it is attributable to a criminal disposition to rob the public has been clearly proven. Before the state depository law was enacted much of the public funds was put in favored banks and interest paid and not accounted for. After its enactment the money was placed on deposit in banks, in some of which officials themselves were stockholders, at 1½ per cent interest on active accounts and 2½ per cent on inactive accounts, while the same banks were advertising for money and offering to pay other depositors 4 per cent, and all the time that this business was being conducted in this way the state treasurer was without proper books of account.



MEMORIAL HALL,
Where Democrats Met to Name State Ticket.

Under a Democratic state treasurer books are kept which show every transaction of the department. The state funds are loaned out at competitive bidding. The active accounts draw from 2.5 per cent to 2.55 per cent interest. The inactive accounts draw from 3.10 per cent to 4.10 per cent interest. With an average daily balance during the fiscal year 1909 of $697,584.11 less than during the fiscal year 1908, the state has realized $20,284.86 more interest than it did during the year 1908, and suits have been brought, under direction of the governor, to recover $328,506 interest received on public funds by former treasurers and not accounted for to the state.

By what code of morals any one can use public funds for private benefit is beyond my comprehension. To be called to the public service, in whatever capacity, by one's fellow men should always be considered a mark of esteem. I can not conceive of a greater disgrace befalling any man than to be called to a public position and prove recreant to the trust which has been imposed upon him. As a result of the recent investigations one man who betrayed the confidence that had been reposed in him has been convicted and sent to the penitentiary. God speed all others to the same destiny who are guilty of the same offense. The people of the state of Ohio will not be satisfied until grafters everywhere are brought to quick and speedy justice.

2. BUSINESS METHODS AND ECONOMY.

Under the leadership of Governor Harmon, Democracy has insisted that the business of the state shall be conducted on modern business methods; that the public affairs shall be economically administered. In 1890 the total expenditures of the state amounted to $3,484,806. In 1900 they increased to $4,904,769, and in 1908 the expenditures amounted to the appalling sum of $8,194,493. What benefits did our people receive from the state during 1908 that they did not have during the year 1890?

The total indebtedness increased in 1908 over the year 1907, $13,156,168. The local indebtedness, and by that I mean the indebtedness of counties, cities, incorporated villages, townships and school districts, in 1896 amounted to $99,069,212.86. In 1908 it had increased to $170,179,657 making a net increase within 12 years of $71,110,444.14.

Is not Democracy justified in asking why this vast increase in the amount of the state expenditures, and are we not concerned to know the reasons for the increase of the local indebtedness, and to command that better business methods and economy shall be introduced in every portion of the public service? And yet when our governor asks that the affairs of our public institutions shall be placed in charge of a central board of trustees, who shall give their undivided time and attention to the affairs of those institutions, his request is ignored for the simple reason that it would enable him to reorganize them, and perhaps by that means displace some Republican officeholders. I have no objection to partisanship, but I protest against the sacrifice of the state to party advantage.

3. REDUCTION AND REFORM IN OUR TAX SYSTEM.

Since the adoption of the constitution of 1851 Ohio has had the so-called uniform rule of taxation. It requires "all moneys, joint stock companies or otherwise, and also all real and personal property," to be taxed according to a uniform rule and at its true value in money. At first blush it may seem right in theory. In practice it is anything but just or uniform. It is bad in its conception; it has been worse in its administration. Under it we have had high taxation and low taxation, double taxation and no taxation. Real estate is open to public view and none of it escapes. Much of the tangible personal property is concealed in factores and stores, and most of it escapes. For years the state auditor, in violation of the constitution and laws of Ohio, instructed county auditors, and they in turn instructed the assessors and decennial appraisers, to make their returns at not exceeding 60 per cent of the true value thereof. The result is an utter disregard of all law, of all uniformity, and has led to the grossest inequalities.

In 1870 the entire return of the state for taxation of moneys, credits and investments in bonds amounted to $136,273,860; in 1908 they amounted to $140,497,582, an increase of only $4,223,722 when every observing man knows that during these years this class of property has doubled, if it has not trebled or quadrupled.

In 1870 the merchants of the state returned for taxation stocks valued at $50,420,804; in 1908 their returns only amounted to $36,407,082, a decrease of $14,013,732.

In 1870 the manufactured product of Ohio was returned for taxation at a valuation of $20,022,099, while in 1908 the return was only $11,986,246, while the bureau of labor statistics reported the total valuation of goods manufactured in the state for the year 1907 at $1,145,584,596.41, of which the average monthly output, namely, one-twelfth, should have been returned for taxation.

The public service corporations have an estimated valuation of more than $1,000,000,000, and yet they pay taxes on not more than $183,000,000. As a result the small home owner is bearing more than his share of the burden. The tax rates in Ohio in the various taxing districts varies from less than 1 per cent to more than 6 per cent.

We are glad to know that during its last session, through the persistence of Governor Harmon, aided by the force of public opinion, a law was passed creating a tax commission whose special duty it will be in part to see to it that the owners of all public utilities shall make full returns of all their property, requiring private corporations to report fully their subscribed or issued and outstanding capital stock, and compelling all tax officials to list property at its true value in money, and we are glad to know that by the same means another act was passed limiting the tax rate to 10 mills, with the privilege of increasing it under certain conditions to 15 mills, exclusive of levy for sinking fund and interest purposes. There can be no doubt but that with reasonably correct returns more money can be raised for public purposes on a valuation of 10 mills than is now raised.

These are the principles for which William J. Bryan has been fighting throughout the nation, and Tom L. Johnson in state and municipality, and for which true Democracy stand everywhere.

At the very outset Governor Harris sought to embarrass Governor Harmon by filling responsible offices with Republicans who were not in harmony with the latter's administration, and they were confirmed by a Republican senate. Obstacles were thrown in the way of his investigation of graft until the Republicans of the general assembly were driven by public clamor to concede his position.

During this fight for better government and for lower and more equitable taxes, where has the president stood? Was he in sympathy with Governor Harmon's fight for honesty in public office? If so let him say so. Does he believe in the introduction of better business methods in our state inustitutions? If so let him say so. Does he believe that our taxation system needs reformation? If so let him say so. But instead of giving to Governor Harmon the moral support he deserved, what has been his stand? It is not long ago that he held frequent meetings in the White House at Washington with his political followers for the purpose of bringing about the defeat of Governor Harmon and the Democratic state ticket. Is it not of more importance to the country at large that the present Republican administration should look after its present business than that it should devote its time and efforts to defeat the re-election of a Democratic governor in Ohio? Think of it: the president of the United States, during a time when almost the entire people are crying out for relief from the burdens of taxation, from the restrictions of monopoly, from the tyranny of aggregated wealth, giving his attention and efforts to matters purely political.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.

For several years the propriety of a public utilities commission has been seriously discussed. As many of them are constantly devising ways and means to evade the operations of the law, so it becomes necessary to keep them within the law. This commission is a success in New York and Wisconsin, and there is no reason why it should not be a success in Ohio. Democracy recognizes the

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Diving Venus.

The diving Venus, now filling a long engagement at Rock Springs park, is one of the most wonderful performers in the world. The spacious swimming pool provides ample space for her great diving act, which is repeated each day. The lady also gives exhibitions of fancy swimming and performs marvelous feats of daring in midstream.

It is a remarkable coincidence how popular the chicken and waffle dinner has become. From a positive experiment on the part of the park management the feature has grown into the most popular and eagerly sought after of the innumerable attractions. Private parties are taken care of and the telephone is working.

Schedule Committee to Meet.

A meeting of the schedule committee of the Shop league ball teams will be held Wednesday evening for the purpose of arranging a schedule for the games. Owing to the bad weather and some unavoidable circumstances the teams have not been playing but it is thought that from now on a regular schedule can be maintained.

NO PRIZE FIGHT IN OHIO SAYS DENMAN

Columbus, June 22.—"There will be no fight in this state," said Attorney General Denman when his attention was called to a report that Mayor W. T. Sawyer, of Akron, had wired the promoters of the Johnson-Jeffries fight that he would guarantee them $100,000 if they would agree to pull the contest off in Ohio. "I do not know how much truth there is in the report, but it can be safely set down that prize fights will not go in Ohio. This is a violation of the law and we would not tolerate it a moment." Jeffries was prevented from fighting once in Ohio and, no doubt, he would not try to do so again.

The wife also asked the court in her petition for the restoration of her maiden name. The wife is at present making her home at East Palestine where she removed shortly after their marriage.

BIG BATCH OF BUSINESS

authorized to extend the time of payment of outstanding indebtedness which from its limits of taxation, the city is unable to pay. The bonds will be dated July 1, 1910, the first thousand to be due in 10 years, with interest at 4½ per cent, payable semi-annually.

Solicitor J. E. Scott reported that negotiations were pending for the settlement of the damage claims brought against the city by Samuel Patterson, Mrs. Theda Allen, John Allen, Ruth Allen, Brooke Allen, Ward Allen and Martin Allen, and council adopted a resolution authorizing to make the compromise.

Chairman Augustine, of the judiciary committee, reported that the committee is working as hard as it can on the sewage disposal plant proposition, but that it was not ready to report and asked for a longer time to consider matters. He stated that he inspected the disposal plant at Alliance Tuesday. The committee knows we have to have a disposal plant, he said, but the question is how we are going to get at it. He stated that it is not a matter of a few cents or dollars, but what will be the best for the city in the long run. The committee has written to the state board of health and to other places for information on this subject.

The ordinance committee asked and was granted a continuance in reporting on the auto and vehicle ordinances.

Councilman Whitacre presented for council's consideration the matter of appointing an official sealer of weights and measures for this city, to test measures and scales used in local stores. He suggested that, if there is a law providing for it, that a county sealer be appointed by the commissioners. Upon his request that a committee be appointed to look up the matter, President Hiddleson referred the matter to the rules committee.

Upon Mr. Whitacre's request, the clerk was instructed to correspond with the Y. & O. R. R. Co. officials, demanding that motormen on their cars blow the whistles at crossings within the city, which has been neglected of late.

Complaint of trees standing along sidewalks not being trimmed to the limit required by a city ordinance, were reported by Councilman Whitacre. The councilmanic body instructed the clerk to notify the mayor to issue a proclamation calling upon property owners to have their trees trimmed to a height of eight feet, according to an existing ordinance. If this proclamation is not heeded, the service department will trim the trees and charge the same to the property owners.

A resolution to improve Newgarden and Liberty streets by constructing sewers was given its first, second and third readings, but as there was a remonstrance from the residents of the east side of Newgarden street, the resolution was left until the next meeting for a vote on its final passage in order to give these property owners an opportunity to give their reasons for opposing the construction.

The resolution providing for a sewer on Evans street from Washington to Union and on Union from McKinley avenue to Maple street was given its three readings and passed. The solicitor reported that there was a defect in the Garfield avenue sewer petition and a new one, prepared by him, is now going the rounds for signatures.

SALEM NEWS, 10c A WEEK.

OUTLINES STAND OF PARTY

importance of all public utilities in our complex system of government. They are as essential to our existence and well being as any other personal or individual enterprise. I do not doubt that there are persons who would invade the rights of the public utilities corporations just as some of them have invaded the rights of the public. It is not necessary that either should harm the other, and it must not be permitted. Any measure which shall be adopted must protect both the public and the corporation. Any regulations adopted must give full scope to reasonable and legitimate enterprise. They must have reasonable freedom of action, but that does not mean unbridled license to do as they please, when they please, or how they please.

We know that regulations can be adopted by law which will benefit both the public and the utilities without injuring either. A public utility corporation ought not to object to the laws requring it to get the approval of the commission for an issue of stocks or bonds. If the issue is for a proper purpose it is presumed that the permit will be granted. Does any one say that the commission might make a mistake? Yes, it might, but it is not likely, sitting as an impartial body, to commit one-half of the injustice to the public or to the company that has been committed by unscrupulous speculators in over-issues of watered stocks and bonds for private purposes.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

Frequently it happens that the people demand new laws for their relief, and pledges are made in that behalf by party platforms only to be defeated by broken pledges or unscrupulous lobbyists. Again it happens that laws are passed giving away valued rights for a song, which could not be passed if dependent upon the approval of the public. Witness many of the statutes and ordinances granting public franchises. These abuses have continued so long that it sometimes becomes a question whehter we are in truth a representative form of government.

If the people can not get tax laws, or other reforms which they want, because of the intervention of organized privilege, then the people ought to take these things in their own hands by means of the initiative and referendum. It is not intended as a revolution in our form of government. It is not expected that the people will be frequently compelled to adopt this new form of legislation, either by way of initiative or referendum, but it is intended as a policeman's club to compel the representatives to do the people's bidding. I plead for that kind of progressive democracy that believes in the voice of the people.

THE PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR.

After Governor Harmon shall have relieved this state from graft, introduced new business methods and greater economy in the various departments of our state, and reformed our taxation system, the Democracy of Ohio proposes to send him to Washington to introduce the same business methods and the same reforms in the affairs of the federal government.

You know the friends of the president and the governor are wont to show the parallel lines in their careers. First, Mr. Harmon became judge; then Mr. Taft became judge. Next Mr. Harmon became a cabinet officer, and then Mr. Taft became a cabinet officer; then Mr. Taft became president, and Governor Harmon will become president. But the parallel does not end there. Every time each opens his mouth to say a word, or puts his pen to paper, he makes a Democrat.

THE TARIFF.

I shall not stop to discuss economically the theories of protection or revenue tariff. Suffice it to say that perhaps broadly stated the distinction between the two parties is, that the Republicans have favored a tariff principally for protection, and incidentally for revenue, while the Democrats have always advocated a tariff for revenue, with protection as an incident.

While the people with almost unanimous acclaim cried out against the excesses of the Dingley tariff law, the Republicans with characteristic duplicity pledged themselves to revise it. This was explained through the central and western states by Candidate Taft as meaning a revision downwards. If he had not so explained it, does any one believe he could have been elected? Did not every stump speaker and candidate for congress in the central and western states so explain it? What defense can be made when the Republican party, intrenched in power, in the legislative and executive branches of the government, have broken their pledges and presented to the people a tariff which, if it is a reduction at all, is so small that it requires the assistance of an expert statistician to establish the fact?

Let me call your attention to a few of the injustices under Republican tariff legislation. For years manufacturers have controlled the prices in the home market by reason of the tariff, when they were able to undersell foreign manufacturers in their markets.

Agricultural implements of American make are sold to the farmers of Europe and Asia at 25 per cent less than they are sold to the American farmer.

The Dingley law had a duty of $7 per ton upon steel rails. It was shown several years ago in the hearings before a congressional committee that the United States Steel corporation sold its rails to American railroad companies at $28 per ton, when they were shipping the same to Canada and to Mexico and to other foreign countries at $21 per ton.

It is true that the Payne bill greatly reduces the duties upon steel and iron, but why were they not taken off entirely as advised by Andrew Carnegie, whose conscience is being enlightened as he approaches the time for final account?

For years there has been a high duty upon print paper and paper pulp. The manufacturers combined together and raised prices, and some time ago with practical unanimity the newspapers petitioned congress and the president to repeal the duty on these articles in order that the consumer might make importations and defeat the purpose of the paper trust. For years the Democrats had said that the high protective tariff had fostered the trusts. This was denied, but when the newspaper found themselves throttled by the very trust which they had fostered and defended through their very columns they came and pleaded that the tariff might be repealed.

Republicans defend the tariff schedules on the plea that they are for the benefit of the producer. Upon what ethical principal can they select a producer as an object of government bounty rather than the consumer? Why should the consumer pay tribute to the producer? Why should American goods made by American labor out of American material be sold to the foreign consumer at a less rate than they are sold to the American consumer?

The president and the so-called conservatives in the senate and in the house may attempt to excuse themselves for broken pledges on the ground of expediency, but they can not justify themselves in the eyes of the hungry who want cheaper beef, or the naked who want clothing, or the homeless who want a roof to cover their heads, or the consumer of whatever class who must pay the increased cost.

If there are any members of the house or senate who deserve credit for their services during the last session, they are the Republicans who had the courage to stand out against Cannonism and Aldrichism. If there are any members of the house or senate who have become discredited, they are the Democrats who betrayed their party pledges and joined hands with the Republicans in order to fasten upon the people the iniquities of the Aldrich-Payne bill.

PREDICTS DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH.

But we need not be surprised at the president's failure to redeem his tariff pledges made before election, and his giving ear to the cry of party expediency. We all remember how he rose to the true plane of statesmanship in his famous Akron speech in 1905, when he condemned in scathing terms the Cox machine in Cincinnati, and declared he would vote against it at the approaching election, if he were at home. We also remember that when he was a candidate for the presidency he smoked the pipe of peace with this same Cox and gave him an "immunity bath."

The triumph of Democracy is the hope of the people. The triumph of Republicanism is the hope of privilege. Republican extravagance must give way to Democratic economy; special privileges to equal rights.

A Republican administration sends a fleet of warships around the globe, in imitation of the pomp and pageantry of the old world. Democracy would send out a fleet of merchantmen to dispose of the excess products of American mines, factories and farms, and bring to our shores what we do not have and our people require. Republicanism would build more warships; Democracy would expend her excess revenues to improve our rivers and harbors, and build public highways.

In the fight with privilege, Democracy has suffered defeat after defeat at the polls, but she will win the war. Democracy must ever stand as a champion of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, the same as she did originally under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, and during the last campaign under the leadership of William Jennings Bryan in the nation, and Judson Harmon in the state. Her principles have won some battles, and they will win others.

TAFT BRINGS SENATE AROUND

Threatened Filibuster on Postal Banks Bill Is Dropped

WILL PROBABLY PASS TODAY

Hearing His Pet Bill Would Be "Doctored" While He Was at Yale President Calls Off Trip and Prepares to Remain All Summer in Washington to Fight For Measure Threat Brings Results.

Washington, June 22.—The president heard that there was a plan on foot in the senate to "doctor" the postal savings bank bill while he was at New Haven today watching his elder son Robert get his Yale diploma. The president was greatly disturbed over the reports, and by the time several senators had got to the White House in response to hurry calls his fighting blood was up in good shape.

He told three senators that he had called off his trip to New Haven; that he would insist on the party's postal savings bank pledges being enacted, and that they could carry word back to the senate that he will be prepared to stay in Washington all summer, and even to next December, if necessary, to see this legislation through.

The president's determined attitude brought results. The filibuster threatened by the senate insurgents was called off and they contended themselves with introducing several amendments, all of which were voted down. The backbone of the opposition gave way and the senate agreed to vote on the bill at 5 o'clock today. At that time it will be undoubtedly passed and Taft's victory completed.

The insurgents were not willing to admit the president's challenge for an all-summer fight had anything to do with their amendment of the filibuster plan, but one or two Democrats who had been approached by the insurgents to help in the filibuster, said:

"The president considers this bill of sufficient importance to remain in Washington all summer if necessary; the rest of us can't. That end it."

President Taft's control of the situation is all the more notable in view of the terms of the bill which the senate will accept today. The bill is the one that passed the house and many senators in voting for it will be accepting propositions that are directly at variance with the provisions contained in the bill passed by the senate. In other words, many senators will be recorded as having voted early in the session for certain propositions and later in the sessions as against practically the same propositions.

"Pork Bill" Increased.

The omnibus public building bill was reported back to the senate from the senate committee on public buildings and grounds, with appropriations which increased it about $7,000,000 over what was carried in the house bill. The total is approximately $25,000,000.

New public buildings were authorized by the senate committee at limits of cost as follows: Sunbury, Pa., $10,000; Elkins, W. Va., $85,000; Sistersville, W. Va., $60,000; Bellaire, O., $70,000; Lorain, O., $125,000.

A large number of authorizations for the purchase of sites for public buildings are inserted in the bill, among them DuBois, Pa.; Rochester, Pa., and South Bethlehem, Pa.

NEGRO BURNED TO STAKE

Texas Mob Makes Short Work of Confessed Murderer.

Rusk, Tex., June 22.—Leonard Johnson, a negro charged with having killed Miss Maud Redding, a young woman near here, Monday, was burned at a stake by a mob near the scene. Sheriff Norwood and a posse were en route here with the negro when they were overpowered by a mob at Lone Star, near the home of the murdered girl.

Securing the frightened negro, who was pleading for his life, the mob dragged him a short distance from the town. There, it is said, he confessed he had not only murdered, but had assaulted Miss Redding. The negro was then tied to a stake and after brush had been piled high around him the torch was applied. Disregarding the pleading of Johnson, the fire was fed until he was dead. Then the mob quietly dispersed.

Taft Expels Garfield's Son.

Watertown, Conn., June 22.—For decorating with their school colors, flags and evergreens the large granite soldiers' memorial shaft in the middle of the town John Garfield, a senior, son of former Secretary of the Interior James Garfield, Harry Crocker of San Francisco and Frank Andrews and John Dunham, both of New York, were expelled from Taft school by Horace Taft, the principal, who is a brother of President Taft.

Catholic Church Wrecked.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 22.—During a severe thunderstorm, which swept over the Wyoming valley, the Holy Family Catholic church at Sugar Notch was struck by lightning and destroyed. The bolt struck the steeple, tearing it to pieces and then set fire to the church. The loss is $50,000.

WEDS VISCOUNT ACHESON

Miss Mildred Carter, Daughter of American Diplomat, the Bride.

London, June 22.—Mildred Carter, daughter of the American minister to the Balkan states, and Viscount Acheson, eldest son of the Earl of Gosford, were married at St. George's in Hanover square. There were seven bridesmaids. Hon. Patrick Acheson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

After the wedding there was a reception at Dorchester House, which had been lent for the occasion by Ambassador Reid. The couple will spend their honeymoon on the continent.

Princess Fedora Dead.

Berlin, June 22.—Princess Fedora of Schleswig-Holstein is dead. She was the youngest sister of the Empress Auguste Victoria and was born in 1847.

Roots, Herbs and Barks.

You can no doubt recall the collection of roots, herbs and barks your grandmother made every fall for the family medicine chest.

It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills had its origin more than 30 years ago in one of these home medicine chests, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from those same roots and herbs with extreme accuracy, care and cleanliness.

"Pennyweighters," as the detectives call them, have been busy in Washington during the last few days. Eleven dentists' offices have been entered and robbed of gold leaf and platinum to the value of about $300.

What the Editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine Offers You to Read

A short personal talk by the Editor with the readers and prospective readers of Cosmopolitan Magazines.

The business of an editor is to give the readers of a publication the kind of magazine they want. That is what I try to give you.

You will find in every issue of the Cosmopolitan at least one article and story that you will remember as being the best article and story of the month. Letters from readers come in to me in a continuous stream, confirming this opinion.

I will tell you what you are going to get for the next year. Charles Edward Russell is writing a series of articles under the general title of "What Are You Going to Do About It?" which exposes the legislative rottenness in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, California and elsewhere through the country.

President Diaz, of Mexico, who has been condemned more than any man of modern times, tells his side in his autobiography, which will run through five numbers of the Comopolitan.

Winifred Black is writing on "Woman's Suffrage in Great Britian" for the Cosmopolitan. Mrs. Black was sent abroad by this magazine to make a close study of the foreign situation as regards Woman's Suffrage, and to tell her American sisters about what she saw there.

Harold Bolce is writing a series of articles showing how the modern Women's Colleges in this country are teaching a new religion, which is so radically different from the religion of our fathers as to be almost sensational.

Dr. Woods Hutchison, the famous writer on popular medicine, is giving you a series of articles on babies and their care, which will interest every father and mother in the land.

General Miles is now putting on the finishing touches of his autobiography, which will begin in a few months to be run in the Cosmopolitan.

As to Fiction, I have been able to secure the best work of the best writers of to-day: O. Henry, Bruno Lessing, Jacques Futrelle, Jack London, Porter Emerson Brown, Alfred Henry Lewis, George Randolph Chester, Sir Gilbert Parker, Agnes and Edgerton Castle and many more.

These are a few of the things that you may expect to see in the Cosmopolitan from now on. A costly array of subjects and writers, surely, but the Cosmopolitan's policy has always been to give its readers the best, regardless of price.

LIVELY TIMES AT OYSTER BAY

Roosevelt Promises to Spend Strenuous Summer

POLITICAL FRIENDS ON HAND

General Luke E. Wright, After Two-Hour Chat With Roosevelt, Says It Was Purely Social Call—Nothing at All the Matter With Teddy's Throat, It Is Said, in Answer to Many Rumors to Contrary.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 22.—Sagamore Hill, the home of Theodore Roosevelt, is going to be a lively place this summer, and Colonel Roosevelt, himself an advocate of the strenuous life, is going to be still livelier. Even though the ex-president, according to his own announcement, will eschew politics or at least remain silent on that topic for a while, he is pretty likely to see a good many of his political friends here before he leaves for the west in September. He won't tell of his plans yet, because he says he has none and doesn't know who may come to see him.

There were seven visitors at Sagamore Hill, including General Luke E. Wright. Four of them remained over night. While only three of them could have talked to Colonel Roosevelt regarding national subjects, they declared that their visit was of a social nature, positively social.

Just before leaving for his home in Farmington, Conn., Rear Admiral W. S. Cowles, who spent the night with his wife and son Sheffield at Sagamore Hill, asserted that there is nothing at all the matter with Colonel Roosevelt's throat. There had been reports here to the contrary.

Colonel Roosevelt, said his brother-in-law, is in tip-top shape, ready for a strenuous summer, for work is his salvation. He said that the colonel spoke of Kermit's daring and utter disregard for danger while in Africa. Mr. Roosevelt was worried at times, but all the same he admired the boy for his pluck.

Other visitors were Joseph Bucklin Bishop, secretary of the Panama canal commission, and C. G. LaFarge, the architect, who remodeled the house on Sagamore Hill a few years ago. Their wives were with them and they remained over night.

Akron (O.) Woman Makes Long Trip in Her Brother's Behalf.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 22.—A short, elderly woman, who registered at the Columbia hotel as Mrs. Alterman, and said she came all the way from Akron, O., ascended Sagamore Hill to see Colonel Roosevelt.

Mrs. Alterman said that her son-in-law had held a state job for two years in Columbus, O., and was seeking the nomination for mayor of Akron. She had written two letters to the colonel, she asserted, but had received no answer. On her return from Sagamore Hill an hour later she was very much put out, because she said the butler told her that Mr. Roosevelt was not at home. She drove up in a shabby, worn carriage.

JEFFRIES AND CAMP MOVE ON TO NEVADA

Reno Gets Big Fight—Jeffries Favorite Over Negro

San Francisco, June 22.—The off-to-Reno movement which started when Promoter Rickard with many eastern newspaper men left on Monday morning has been further augmented. A big crowd left at 9 o'clock last night. Jeffries and his party, including intimate friends, such as Corbett, Hector McKenzie, Walter Kelly, Bob Vernon and others, were in a special car attached to the through train and half a dozen newspaper men were also along.

Those people who have insisted all along that Jeff might invent some excuse for not fighting the black must take off their hats to the man from southern California. He is the one who has made the first start for Nevada and his actions in getting under way will do much to convince the people in the east as well as in California that the bout will take place as scheduled. There has been absolutely no delay by Jeff and his camp.

Jeffries is once more a 10 to 6 favorite over Jack Johnson. The announcement of the change in the odds by which the retired champion is once more installed as a favorite at the same price that marked the beginning of wagering, was made last night by Betting Commissioner Tom Corbett.

The announcement came as a surprise, for it had been expected as soon as Johnson showed his true form in training at the beach that his supporters would flock in with their coin.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES & ULCERS

Old sores remain open and chronic ulcers refuse to heal because they are kept constantly irritated and infected by impurities in the blood. This impurity of the circulation comes from various causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of health, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible. But whatever the cause of the infected circulation, the sore or ulcer CANNOT heal until the blood is purified. S. S. S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation and removes the impurities and polluted matter which are the means of keeping the sore open; then the sore is bound to heal. S. S. S. is the finest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation but it adds the necessary healing qualities to the blood, and in this way assists nature to quickly cure sores and ulcers. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., can do no permanent good toward healing an old sore because such treatment does not reach the blood. These external applications may be soothing and cleansing, but the healing must begin at the bottom, and this is just what S. S. S. does by first purifying the blood, and then furnishing nourishment and health to all the flesh tissues. Book on Sores and Ulcers free to all who write and request it.

OHIO LAND BEST INVESTMENT IN WORLD

park surrounding the administration buildings shortly after arrival, the station management serving hot coffeefree to the visitors.

A brief time after lunch was spent by the party investigating the dairy, hog, beef cattle and horse barns and machinery sheds and the journey over the field under direction of Prof. Williams and Director Thorne began, the variety oats test plots being the first visited. Here it was found that the most satisfactory results are being obtained with the variety known as the "sixty day" oats, although several other varieties are proving almost as good, full details regarding which may be found in the bulletins which the station issues free to all farmers in the state. Plots showing the effects of various dates of planting were also examined, the earlier plantings containing in every instance better looking oats. The winter oats were almost all killed the past season, only the earliest plantings surviving.

The alfalfa nursery plots were next visited and there the farmers could see the results from seeding of alfalfa from every state and country where it is grown. Invariably the best results have been obtained from the seed grown in the northwestern states of this country.

In the wheat test plots the Columbiana county farmers found much to interest them. Here it was found that perhaps the best results had been obtained with the variety known as "Gipsy," although very satisfactory results have been obtained from selections of Fultz. In pointing out the selection plots, Prof. Williams explained what is meant by selection breeding of oats and wheat. From a certain variety the very earliest and best heads are selected. These are planted in small plots, one head to a row, and the seed thus obtained replanted until there is enough for a large acreage. This method has produced in several instances much better results than were obtained from the original seed and this holds true especially with regards to the Fultz wheat. The Mediterranean, Early Ripe, and Dawson's Golden Chaff are all good producers but defective in some respect, the two former have weak straw which falls easily and the latter producing an inferior grade of flour. Spring wheat plots were examined, but his variety has not proved to be especially advantageous in Ohio. There were also plots of wheat imported from various foreign countries, some of which little resembles the wheat grown in Ohio, but very little of this has given satisfactory results and is of value only as an experiment.

The corn plots are not far enough along yet, because of the extremely backward spring, to make them very interesting. However, the plots showing the effect of different plantings beginning with the 15th of April and extending into June show that corn planted the 29th of April is the best this year. The corn plots were in excellent cultivation, few if any weeds being visible. It is all planted in check rows and cultivated each way. Hand and machine planting is used, the former giving the best stand usually.

The clover plots were also very interesting as the growing of clover is coming to be more and more realized as a necessity. The growth of this valuable legume was uniformly good on the station farm and gives promise of much fine hay. Prof. Williams stated that their land is now producing about four tons of clover per acre. They have found that lime, in liberal quantities, is absolutely essential in treating lands to be seeded in clover; that clipping the clover in the spring pays, as it keeps back the weeds and adds a mulch to the roots; that it is advantageous to mix alsike with the red clover at the rate of three pounds of alsike to ten of red seed. Timothy is also sown with clover always, so that in the event that the clover shold fail there will be a crop of hay anyway.

The regular field crop rotation followed there is corn, oats, wheat and clover, each crop succeeding the other in the order named and the value of this rotation is strikingly shown by comparison of the rotated plots with plots that have been producing the same thing continuously for the past 17 years. On these latter the stand is very poor and is a striking example of how land may be "worn out."

When the variety fields tests had been examined under Prof. Williams's direction, Director Thorne took charge and directed the farmers over the fertilizer tests. These are numerous and the lessons they contain are most valuable to any farmer. The relative values of the various kinds of commercial fertilizer combinations applied in various quantities to the corn, oats, wheat, clover and timothy rotations and to the potatoes, wheat and clover rotations are shown clearly. Experiments with barnyard manure were also examined, these experiments showing conclusively that although barnyard manure is a complete fertilizer in itself, it is rendered much more valuable by the addition of a small quantity of acid phosphate, which is mixed directly with the manure as it is taken from the stables or yards. The plots thus treated are showing better results than plots fertilized only with commercial fertilizers, which proves that manure with phosphate added is indespensible in the most successful farming.

The average gain in production in all the plots cultivated by the station's approved system of underdrainage, rotation and fertilization has amounted to over $50 per acre while the cost has been less than $14 per acre—a tribute to the value of brains in farming.

The lime test plots show conclusively the value of liming for clover, in order to sweet the sour Ohio soils. It is applied at the rate of about one ton per acre of burnt lime or two of pulverized limestone, with lighter applications afterward. But lime alone will not produce good clover. It must be given phosphate and potash in addition to get the best results. Being a legume, it produces its own nitrogen. Lime is also needed for alfalfa.

In all the fertilizer plots every fourth plot is unfertilized, to show the difference in the size and stand of the crop and in many instances the differences are very striking indeed.

On the potato test plots it was shown that phosphate and potash (muriate) has given the best results. While it is generally supposed that potatoes need more potash than phosphate, the tests there have shown slightly in favor of the latter. However, the effect of the potash is showing more favorably in recent years. Carmen No. 3 is the variety of potatoes most generally grown, although experiments are made with many other varieties. Mechanical planters are used in the larger fields.

The time was too limited for a very thorough examination of the orchard and small fruit and the forestry test plots, but in these the value of the sod and mulch treatment for orchard trees, of spraying, etc., was shown very clearly. The crop of apples at the farm will be fair this year, and the peach crop was saved by the use of smudge pots during the cold nights of the early spring. The grapes are all being wrapped in mosquito netting to prevent ravages from the rose bugs. The strawberries and currants are now being picked, a careful record of the production of every plot being kept.

A force of young men were employed in the forestry department, where young trees are being grown for distribution about the state to farmers who will conduct forestry tests.

The live stock department could only be given a short visit, owing to limited time, but here it was found that beef cattle and hogs are being fed various combinations of feed to determine the value and results to be obtained. The alfalfa hay, a large amount of which is produced, is proving very satisfactory in cattle feeding, especially when combined with ensilage. Haying was in progress in the alfalfa fields. A new hog barn and yards have recently been constructed and in these only the Duroc Jerseys are to be found, this variety proving to be the most profitable.

Workmen were engaged in the construction of a new power building, which will be located near the administration buildings. The park and grounds about the main buildings are very beautiful just now and Ohio truly has reason to be proud of this great institution which, aside from the extraordinary expense not directly incident to farming but rather of an educational nature, is on a paying basis.

The Columbiana county delegation left Wooster on the 4:28 p. m. train, arriving in Salem at 6:21.
